Down in Groves county the grand jury has returned an indictment for gaming against a dead man. That was pressing the prerogatives of the law about as far as an Arkansas justice made them go. Down in Arkansas man started out on a mule and not returning on schedule time a searching party started out on a tour of investigation and found the man's body in a stream where he had drowned three days previously, and found the mule grazing along the banks of the stream. A revolver was found on the body of the man. A Justice of the Peace promptly entered a charge of carrying concealed weapons, tried the dead man, fined him fifty dollars, and appropriated the mule and revolver to satisfy fine and cost.—Kentucky Colonel.

A very handsome young lady has been appointed Deputy Sheriff of Salt Lake City, Utah, and now the delinquent tax-payers are "easily caught up with" and the county has a heavy "flush fund."

FULLY PREPARED.—"So you wish to leave to get married, Mary? I hope you have given the matter a serious consideration?"

"Oh I have, sir," was the earnest reply. "I've been to two fortune-tellers and a clairvoyant, and looked in a sign book and dreamed on a lock of his hair and been to one of those astrologers and to a meejum, and they all tell me to go ahead, sir. I ain't one to marry reckless like, sir."

A Mercer county man rode around a toll gate to avoid paying five cents toll; when arrested for that, a pistol was found in his pocket for which he was fined. He sold his cow to get money to pay the fine, and then stole the cow and drove her back home because he needed milk and he is now in jail for stealing the cow.

The chemists at the New Jersey experiment station claimed to have proved by analysis that a crop of crimson clover six inches high has accumulated nitrogen per acre that would cost $15 to buy; at thirteen inches high, $25 50 per acre, while at full maturity the nitrogen taken from the air by the clover is worth $20 per acre.

A New York widow of forty-two years old has sued a youth of seventeen for breach of promise, and a Kansas young man has had a woman arrested for kissing him against his will. The new woman fee is restraining.

Experience

Teaches us much

The wise and prudent man profiteth by the experience of others. We have but one way to judge the future and that is by the past, and we should profit by our mistakes, and be guided by the lamp of experience. Experience teaches all that quick cash sales and small profits is the modern way of conducting a successful business. I do business in this way, which makes it to the buyers interest to see me when needing any thing in General Merchandise.
